Fortify Energy is a global leader in clean technology, efficient building architecture and construction, and renewable energy production. Our goal is to preserve and enhance quality of life and environment by expanding the infrastructure of economically viable clean technology. In becoming a $150 billion company by 2015, we will strengthen efforts in engineering, manufacturing, installation, research, design and product development to achieve this goal. Enabling access to the most efficient and innovative techniques, our target customer base includes municipalities, utility, industrial, medical, and education sectors as well as individual consumers. We will become the company most known for protecting and proliferating worldwide energy independence.
